Fine Steels form the Sinews of a
MAXWELL

Everything that is built to endure must have fine sinews.

A great ship, a giant locomotive, a huge bridge, a gigantic building.

Search for the sinews in a Maxwell and you discover new steels, fine steels, special steels, steels manufactured to Maxwell's own formulae.

Steels, for instance, that make possible that rare combination of extreme lightness and brute strength.

For a Maxwell is made to be light in weight. Its mission is economic transportation.

Any superfluous pound to carry around means so much more cost of operation.

But the great problem was to get steels of rare quality and great strength.

They are found in a Maxwell in axles, shaftings, gears, frame, crankshaft, connecting rods, etc., etc.

They equal, pound for pound, the steels to be found in any car made.

Costly as they are, they repay their price many times over in the lifetime of a Maxwell.

They save. They pay dividends of satisfaction.

They make friends. They are responsible for that rapid rise of Maxwell the world over.

Nearly 400,000 now in use; 100,000 more in process of construction; and fully 40 per cent of those who have decided upon a Maxwell as their first-choice car will not be able to get one this year—so overwhelming is the demand for this remarkable car.

14-CENT MILK IS FAIR, SAY DEALERS

Can See No Possibility of Price Cut Now — Call Glasco's Letter Unjust.

County Agent R. T. Glasco's open letter to the milk dealers is characterized as premature, unfair and containing a garbled account of fact according to leading dealers here. Representatives of the three leading distributors this morning were laying plans for a meeting with the county agent at his office in the court house tonight. They were preparing to present the existing conditions from their viewpoint and, in accord with their declaration, show that the price of milk is not excessive and at a price when the real facts are known, considerable less than many cities in the state, and, in fact, over a wide radius from here.

That there were many entering points toward which the farmers had no prospective was the digest of the statements from the milkmen. Overhead is heavy. "The letter holds us up in a very bad light," said Henry T. Glass of the Janesville Pure Milk Co. "It was very premature and it was only one side of the question. Had the letter been presented to the dealer would be seen to be radically different than it does from Mr. Glasco's letter. "He failed to take into consideration the rising cost of labor, of machinery and at the present time the loss every milkman in the city is enduring because of the excess supply this month. We would be cutting our own throats if we refused to take from the producer only that quantity sufficient to supply our needs at the present time. "The reason is this. Many new herds are beginning to milk now. This is one reason for the excess but in addition there is the general shutting down of many creameries and condenseries born as the result of the war. We are compelled to buy the farmers' extra supply. This month it will cost the Janesville Pure Milk Co. close to $200 for this over-supply. It will be a total loss. "We are compelled to take this extra milk. Likewise in the seasons of drought we, as well as the farmer, are hit. To refuse his product now would be suicide."

Low Price Here—Merrick. According to Roy L. Merrick of the Merrick Dairy Co., Janesville is securing better milk at better prices than any city in the state. He reiterated the alleged statement of an inspector from the Wisconsin dairy and food commission. Mr. Merrick presented figures to bear out his contention and showed that the butter fat test demanded by the local dealers is in excess of that of outside firms and, in addition, showed that many cities are paying eight and nine cents per pint against seven in Janesville. Quarts at better prices. He admitted that at these places, he admitted but argued that the big return came from the pint sale. Milk is 14 cents here he explained but at wholesale dealers are securing from 11 to 13.

"We suffered six rises in the price of milk in the past year, before we were compelled to raise the price to the consumer," Mr. Merrick said. "Shrinkage from pasteurization gives us just a fraction over 45 quarts of milk from each 100 pounds we buy. From Mr. Glasco's letter it would appear that we had closer to 50 quarts from each hundred. We have not and for every hundred we purchase at 5.5 we lose a fraction over 25 cents in preparation. "Considering bottle breakage and loss, a rise in caps from 21 cents to 46, $2.50 per pair for horseshoes, high labor and a hundred other points we have to consider and which Mr. Glasco did not, the 8.5 figure he used as being the source of our distribution cost and profit is away off."

"At no time in the past four months did the Merrick Dairy Company's milk test less than 3.5. I can prove this from my own and records of our company at Madison, the latter taken by state representatives."

COUNCIL GIVES $5,000 FOR NEW PLAYGROUND

Poles Will Stay Up. Alderman Hill was the only member to vote in favor of the ordinance requiring removal of all poles on North and South Jackson, and North Franklin streets, Center avenue, Mayday boulevard, and West Milwaukee from Academy to Center avenue. It may hold up the paving program, it would be a colossal expenditure for small benefit derived, it is not wanted by users of telephones and electricity—these were advanced as chief of the reasons against passage of the ordinance.

Speeches against adoption were made by Mayor Welsh, Alderman Tullin, Alderman Pautz, W. N. Cash, manager, Wisconsin Telephone company, Harold L. Gelsse, manager, Janesville Electric company, and M. P. Richardson, counsel, Rock County Telephone company.

"I've talked with a good many people on Jackson street and have found but one who wants poles removed," said Ald. Pautz. "I think we should pass or kill this ordinance tonight rather than lay it on the table as has been suggested."

Corporations Object. "We have already cut 10 poles off Jackson street and are carrying out combined use of poles on other streets," explained Mr. Gelsse. "If we were able to get conduit, which I doubt, it would cost $55,000 per mile for installing in our estimates show. The consumer would have to stand his share of this cost in addition to cost of conduit from the street to his home."

"Am against anything that may stop our paving," declared Alderman

Dulin. "Now that we're started early, let's finish it up—God knows we need paving!"

Bell Company and Conduits. Mr. Cash explained that the Bell Telephone company planned to have underground this year all cables on North Franklin to Ravine street, and Center avenue, from Milwaukee to Center street. The company is working fast to eliminate poles, looking ahead 20 years all the time, he said.

"You aren't going to get rid of the poles, subscribers are going to have them put up in their own yards rather than pay for conduits," declared Mr. Richardson. "It is the biggest undertaking ever proposed in any Wisconsin city—it is colossal, and cannot be passed over lightly."

Truiston Co. Gets Off Easy. It costs more to pave between car tracks than on a regular foundation. The Janesville Traction company agrees to pay this added cost per square yard by terms the second ordinance adopted last night, clearing up a long controversy. Property owners on streets over which the street-cars run must pay for paving to the center of the street except that the company will pay the extra cost created by difficulty in paving around the rails and ties. In the past, the company has had to pay the entire cost of paving along its roadbed, a property-owner on one side paying for paving only to a point 3 1/2 feet from the center line. Alderman Hill's first cast the only negative vote against adoption of this ordinance explaining that he wanted to wait until the street-car company had lived up to its promises of better service, before he gave them any benefits.

"Instead of a 20-minute service, we're getting a 40-minute one," he said. It was explained six new cars had been ordered and are expected to arrive any day. It was decided to publish the ordinance three times. The ordinance creating a board of health to work in cooperation with Dr. Fred B. Welch, health officer, especially during epidemics, was adopted unanimously. Members will serve without pay.

Mayor Welsh announced his appointments as follows: H. H. Bliss, 3 years; Harry Garbutt, 2 years; Joseph M. Connors, 1 year. The appointments were made without consultation with the appointees. In the future, members will be appointed for 3-year terms to take office the third Tuesday in April.

MOTORCYCLE RIDERS HURT IN SMASH-UP. BAKER IS AWARDED TITLE TO PROPERTY

Mayville.—Anton Spangler, who is engaged in the bakery business in this city, has received information that Judge Luck of the circuit court has decided an important action at law in his favor, returning to him the title to Beaver Dam property worth $25,000 which he traded some years ago for 800 acres of land in North Dakota. Mr. Spangler, who was then in business in Beaver Dam, turned over his city property on the trade, a Dakota banker engineering the deal in behalf of the land company. Spangler went with his family to North Dakota and lived on the land for some time until he discovered that the tract was covered with mortgages and bonds to an amount greater than the value of the property. He at once abandoned the place and instituted proceedings to have the real estate contract set aside on the ground of fraud.

PARK ST. NAMED AS PAVILION SITE

Land Between Two Jails Is Sought—Meeting Saturday Night To Consider Proposal.

Meeting to consider petitioning the board of supervisors of Rock county to place county land on Park street, this city, between the new and old jails at the disposal of the directors of the proposed stock pavilion for the erection of a joint pavilion and community building will be held at the court house here at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Announcement of this effort was made today by R. T. Glasco, county agent.

It is planned to construct a circular building of cement, two stories high, the main floor to be used for sales, with specially constructed stalls for cattle and rising seats for spectators to the number of several thousand. The upper floor, according to Mr. Glasco, might be used for meeting rooms for farmers' organizations.

Preferred to Fair Grounds.

"This site is preferable to the fair grounds," stated the county agent, "as more centrally located both for the farmers and the buyers, as well as the general public. While we wished that it were possible to get a place along the railroad, the land offered us by the Northwestern is too far out being in the vicinity of the stock yards. The Milwaukee road had no land to offer within easy distance of the city."

Merchants Will Aid.

"We already have a half dozen sales in mind which we could hold in the pavilion," the agent stated, "and the merchants and bankers of Jamesville have expressed a willingness to aid in the construction. They consider the project a booster for the city in that it will bring thousands of outsiders here and make good business."

A former forecast of the plan for the building called for an expenditure of approximately $25,000.

FORMAL PERMISSION GIVEN FOR ERECTION OF 15 TOWERS IN CITY

The ordinance giving official sanction to creation and maintenance of the Wisconsin River power company's high tension power line to the Samson plant, as far as the city of Jamesville concerned, was speeded through the council last night. It was brought out that the line in the city limits have been practically completed; that work was carried out under informal action of the council.

It provides that 15 towers may be erected and that which the line crosses seven streets in the city limits—the Alton road, Chatham street, Center avenue, Main, Locust and Cherry streets, and Park avenue. The line enters the city at the west, taking a most direct course east to the sub station at the Samson plant. It crosses the Alton road, goes east across the race, a back of the cotton mill, east to a point beyond Chatham street, across the river, and due east along the river to the station which is located on the south shore.

It provides further that the towers shall be of galvanized steel each anchored by four galvanized steel anchors embedded in the ground not less than five feet. Towers must be high enough to support the lowest conductor and to clear above the ground, and between towers cables must be less than 24 feet above the ground. Insulators must be of the best grade of porcelain, level as the top and eye bolt type of Lock insulator.

Each tower must be protected against lightning by double metal rods. The city is fully protected against damage to streets.

FAT FOLKS HAVE A HEART

Read the title to suit yourself, with or without a comma after the word "fat". I mean it both ways. Now this is a serious matter and all of that reduction business is for people who are definitely and unquestionably fat, not for young women who yearn to resemble those caricatures they hang clothes on to make the credulous sex feel that there is always something better than what they've got.

I do not advise even frankly fat little boys and girls to attempt any reduction regimen save by the direction of their own physician. The perfect or ideal feminine is 55 inches tall and weighs 135 pounds at age 30. All of the figures given represent weight without clothing. A woman's weight should be from six to twelve pounds over this.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Please tell me which foods are rich and which are poor in vitamins. (E. J. O'SWALD)—These are rich in water-soluble food accessory factors: Eggs, milk, liver, fish, green leafy vegetables, citrus fruits, and green vegetables and cereals. (Mrs. R. N. B.)

ANSWER—It will not reduce, unless by impairing digestion. Fifteen glasses (nearly ounces) of water daily is not too much to drink, but I would not advise taking it hot, though there is no harm in drinking a glass or two of hot water every day if you wish.

TWO GOOD MAIN DISHES

Planked Hamburg—Two pounds of flank or round steak will serve six persons. Chop the meat fine with a small piece of suet and two tablespoons of chopped green pepper, one-half cup of tomato puree or catsup if preferred, about one tablespoon sugar, one tablespoon table salt and one-half teaspoon of dry mustard. Form the meat into a flat oval cake in the center of the hot buttered skillet. Around the edge place a border of parboiled potato balls which have been rolled in seasoned flour. Half-inch slices of tomatoes also dipped in the seasoned flour are arranged at intervals. Broil in a moderately hot oven 30 or 40 minutes. Planked Ham—The ham is broiled on one side like the steak. It is then turned with the cooked side down. Sweet potatoes which have been peeled, sliced in half-inch slices, and parboiled for 10 minutes, are arranged around the ham, the whole then returned to the oven to finish cooking the meat and to brown the potatoes. Spinach should accompany this dinner.

NUT GOODIES

Maple Nut Pudding—One cup of brown sugar, one-quarter cup cornstarch, one-half cup boiling water, one cup scalded milk, one cup walnut meats, two egg whites, one-half cup heavy cream, two tablespoons powdered sugar, one-quarter teaspoon vanilla. Silk Brown Sugar and Cornstarch—Add boiling water slowly, then add to scalded milk, stir until thick, cover, and cook 15 minutes. Remove from the stove, add three-quarters cup walnut meats, broken in pieces, and egg whites beaten stiff. Pour into individual molds rinsed with cold water. When ready to serve, turn out, and garnish with cream beaten stiff and mixed with sugar and vanilla, and with remainder one-quarter cup whole walnut meats.

Nut Oatmeal Cookies—Four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons lard, one cup sugar, one egg, five tablespoons milk, one and three-quarters cups rolled oats, one cup chopped walnut meats, one and one-half cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon soda, three-quarters teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon allspice, 50 walnut meat halves. Cream butter and lard together, and add sugar constantly while beating constantly. Add eggs well beaten, milk, rolled oats, chopped walnut meats, and flour and sifted with salt, soda and spices. Drop from tip of spoon on a buttered sheet, one inch apart, place walnut meats in center of each, and bake in moderate oven 15 minutes.

Walnut Muffins—One-half cup bread flour, three teaspoons baking powder, three-quarters teaspoon salt, one-quarter cup brown sugar, one cup Graham flour, one-third cup chopped walnut, one-third cup raisins, three-quarters cup milk, two tablespoons melted shortening, one egg. Mix and sift bread flour, baking powder, salt and brown sugar, add Graham flour, chopped walnut meats and raisins washed and cut in pieces. Sift well and egg beaten with milk, milk and melted shortening. Beat thoroughly, bake in greased muffin pans in a hot oven for 13 or 20 minutes.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

LINDSEY'S NEW STUDIO

This morning I started off bright and early to make several purchases for my new studio. It was the most thrilling hour in many months. I went poking into all sort of antique shops, and bought bits of copper and several hangings, not to mention the most artistic screen imaginable.

Finally I wound up in Yantins'. I was busy trying to decide just which of the many gorgeous materials before me I wanted for curtains, when something caused me to turn and face—mother!

You can imagine my horror. But that ready tongue of mine came nobly to my rescue, and I smiled serenely at her, as I explained that I was buying curtains for an artist friend of mine. She seemed satisfied, but criticized both mine and the artist's taste in the choice of colors for curtains. Women nowadays, she assured me, were crazy.

My orange silk curtains seemed dearest to me then ever at her words, and I explained to her that different people and their environments had different tastes. After confining me that I had an appointment at the tailor's at four o'clock she swept out. I followed a few minutes later.

Such fun as it was fixing up that room, Jean and Dorcy came over and helped me, and we certainly did wonder round the neighborhood for an hour and some canvases. Everything was ship-shape before four o'clock—and the overhanging tailor.

When I had been mauled and fretted by that individual I went into a duck of a shop and bought a few of the most adorable smocks imaginable. Just the feel of them filled me with new life and ambition.

To my way of thinking, nothing in the way of clothes so perfectly expresses one's individuality as a smock. It can be such a ravishing and intelligent affair, as well as comfy.

I felt like a true woman of the world when I finally found myself fitting my latch key into my very own studio door. And how wonderful to shut said door on the various upsets and depressions that make up the ordinary drab existence of Lindsey Turner, herself!

Here was my castle in Spain, this spacious, remote corner of the world, fitted up by my own hand, and molded by me into the thing that I desired. I actually shivered with delight as I slipped into the brighter of my two smocks, and pushed my hair up into a gloriously becoming though untidy knot on the top of my head.

This done, I sat down before my easel. At six-thirty, tired but happy, I rang the doorbell of my home, and got down to the family dinner just in the nick of time.

Father pinched my cheek as I slid into my seat, and told me that being engaged was vastly becoming to me; that my eyes were like stars, and my cheeks the color of a rose.

But ah! father doesn't know just what the joy of creating can do to perfect the looks of a girl artist; nor the sweets of possessing one's own

EDUCATOR SAYS NOT FOR UNION

Oshkosh, Wis.—The plan of the American Federation of Labor to secure the assistance of the teaching profession by organizing its members into the American Federation of Teachers, an affiliated body, was opposed by Prof. F. B. Mitchell, Oshkosh Normal school, arguing against the plan of L. V. Lampson, Washington, D. C., field man for the federation of teachers, who urged that the normal school teachers form a local and affiliate with the Oshkosh Trades and Labor council.

"To state that organized labor is interested in the schools is only another way of stating that organized labor is not entirely brainless," declared Prof. Mitchell, who answered Mr. Lampson at length when the federation men appeared before a meeting of the faculty association and asked that the teachers see the impossibility of making gains in the political field without the co-operation of a strong body with similar interests.

Is Sordid Thought
"By the same method of reasoning the teachers might secure anything they wish if they would organize."

Opposition as expressed by Prof. Mitchell made impossible the taking of steps toward organization at this meeting.

throw their strength to the La Follette wing of the republican party. Their votes would be welcome and certainly the politicians would be ready to trade. I would be no more fearful of the move if it were a proposition to join a political party.

"Certainly, it is a sordid thought that nothing that is right can come because it is right—that some outside influence must be brought to bear before right can prevail."

"But I will give a month's wages to any person who can come before this body and persuade it to vote as one man. There is no 'teacher vote' any more than there is a 'labor vote.'"

"Further, I question the morality of the proposal. How can union labor guarantee to back us in what we will want, not knowing what we will want in the future?"

Would Be Free of Pressure
"I want to be free from outside influence. As a teacher, I want to approach the problems of life with my mind open, not predisposed, pre-arranged or the problem prejudged."

Wisconsin will be the second state to form a state federation of the teachers' federation, Mr. Lampson predicted. California, he said, now has such a federation, and there are 176 locals scattered widely over the nation.

WAUSAU WILL NOT ADOPT DAYLIGHT SAVING

Wausau—Generally the wholesale merchants and manufacturers of Wausau will not adopt the daylight saving plan this year. Only one institution, the Kieckhefer Grocery company, will start work one hour earlier in the morning and stop one hour earlier in the afternoon, although their clock will not be turned back one hour. Inquiry at most of the manufacturing plants brought out the fact that a different arrangement for working time was not agreeable to the employees, who were questioned on the subject.

Food for Thought
"I like him—he's so optimistic." "So?" "Yeah. Every time he sees a meal served in the movies, he gets his teeth and tips the usher a quarter." —Film Fun.

No better than sixth place in any event was made in the rolling last night in the city bowling tournament. This still gives the remaining teams that are to bowl a good opportunity to strike into the winning third.

The surprise of the meet is the low scores ruling. It had been hoped that the teams would be in such trim that they could finish a few of the records of the city. This may be done tonight when the Arcade team, winners of the City League tournament, take to the drives.

Seventh in Five-Man. In last night's games, the Only Five, with Schwind, the baseball player, a member, fifteenth place in the five man event. The Iron Horse team, made up of Samson, Model, "D" men, took eighth place with 2,951. High man was Hoffman, of the Iron Horses, at 203.

A new eighth place tandem was set up in the doubles when Farnham and Chilson crashed through for 952. Ninth and tenth posts were taken by Pelot and Nelson and Schneider and Chitworth, respectively. Pelot and Baumann respectively with 944.

Pelot swung into sixth place in the singles with 537. New eighth and ninth places were taken by 671 and Baumann at 523. The rest of the crew ran far down in the standings.

SOMETHING'S GOT TO BE DONE

Bill Bassett came into my office the other day to talk politics. Bill is considerably riled over feminism, the women's vote, among other things. He believes in men's rights, he says, even if it is old-fashioned.

Something has got to be done, says Bill, to circumvent a matrarchy in this country. Otherwise there'll be no place safe but the Old Soldier's Home and now that the lady cantenars have come on the scene, that may not be worth while looking forward to.

Women have gone a little too far. If they go much farther, says Bill, we will have to enact a Grandmother law. We called Granddad in, in the South, to circumvent one suffrage amendment to the constitution and there's no reason why we can't keep Grandma on tap for the future. It's well, he says, if we're wise, we'll enact a hat-pin proof law to keep women away from the poles. Because women have got no judgment. None none at all.

But of course Bill may be a bit prejudiced as to women's judgment since the Widow Clark married Bill's pal, instead of him. And Bill always has a warm feeling for Clark's dragsters, even before the old man died.

CRACK ALL-STARS LINING PLAYERS UP

Janesville All Stars will hold their first practice of the season Thursday evening, 3 to 7 at the Blind School "woods." Capt. Chic Babcock asks all regulars and "rookies" to be on hand to form the lineup for the coming year. New men will probably be seen in the Stars uniform during the 1920 season, though the same catchers, "Steve" Stevens and "Dimp" Crowley, will play. For mound men the Stars will have Charlie Rick, southpaw. Hager who shared the pitching burden last year will not be seen in an All Star uniform, having resigned.

Blonde Pullman will be at short again with Art Marko at first, Speck McGinty at second, Fritz Grassline, crack guard on All Star basketball team, will play third if injuries received in basketball do not bother him. If he is unable to play Josie Prox will try for third. In the outfield the Stars will have the trio of last year, Babcock, Zahn and Will. Babcock has been signed up by Babcock and will be playing with the Stars as soon as school is out.

TWO HUNDRED MEN ON ISLAND CANNOT GET BACK

Ashland.—Two hundred employees of the lumber camp of the John Schroeder Lumber company on Oak and Stockton islands are isolated from the world by the spring break-up of the lake ice. For a week the ice has been unsafe and two or three venturesome men have broken through while attempting the walk of half a dozen miles to the mainland, but Friday a couple of Indians succeeded in reaching the mainland with mail.

Communication is also cut off from Madeline island. The ice is too soft to be safe, but too heavy for boats to attempt the passage. The ice, which has been located in the distance from the docks yesterday, but encountered ice two feet thick and was obliged to return. Currents sweeping between the islands wear away the under surface of the ice, in some places cutting clear through. The ice has very little movement, but is now rapidly approaching a stage when whole ice fields will break away. May 1 is about as early as navigation will be safe, marine men say.
